SIR Annual Conference -- speaker presentations

Presentation materials from the 38th Annual Conference of the Society of Insurance Research, recently held in Savannah, Georgia, are now available on-line. If you attended the conference, thank you for your participation. We hope you found the experience valuable and you will participate in future SIR programs.

Please mark your calendar for our 2009 events, March 29 – April 1 in Las Vegas and September 20 – 23 in Orlando.

In separate tracks at the Las Vegas event, the Society will examine from Property/ Casualty and Health Insurance perspectives how the current economic upheavals will shape competitive and regulatory parameters for the future, then present analytical tools and techniques to help you deal with them.

And as always at the SIR, both the Las Vegas and Orlando events will be opportunities for you to network with the hands-on experts who are already thinking about what people in the industry --- and in your company --- will be asking about next year!

If you are interested in speaking, exhibiting, or sponsoring at either event in 2009, or if you have any other question about the SIR, please contact the Conference Chairs identified on the web site, or call 317-398-3684, or email sir.mail@comcast.net.

Copies of presentations from Savannah which have been provided by the speakers may be found at the link below. These materials will remain available to all Annual Conference attendees, at the linked location, for at least two weeks. Then they will be moved inside the Members Only section of the SIR site.

If you are not an SIR Member, you are missing out on material like this from other SIR events! Please note that the annual cost of membership was less than the Member discount to attend this Annual Conference. And the Society is enhancing the SIR web site and adding research and Member services to make the Society an even greater value!
